

ELEPHANT HERD
COSTS $50,000Akdar Temple Arabian
Circus Has Features to Thrill Spectator

Tucked away somewhere in the inner consciousness of every man and woman is the memory of the first circus they ever attended. How vividly when once the old recollections are aroused, does the memory of that great and epochal period come back. The days of preliminary expectation, heightened by the gaily-colored posters and the curiosity-arousing newspaper announcements, the crowds in the streets and around the entrance of the still unknown world of marvels, the incidents of the performance—the daring riders, the acrobats, the performing elephants, the trained lions, the funny clowns—how vividly one lives it all over again—what a glorious page it takes in the life story of days gone by!

With this idea in mind, C. A. Wortham, owner and guiding genius of a show that bears his name, has duplicated the old time one-ring circus, but calls it the Hippodrome and has filled it with new and modern acts. It will exhibit in this city under the auspices of Arabian circus by Akdar Temple, May 1 to 6.

One of the star features of the program is the $50,000 herd of trained elephants, presenting the most pleasing and sensational act ever shown under canvas. These huge pachyderms weigh 28,470 pounds, the heaviest being Tony, who tips the scale at 8,040 and the lightest is Tilly, who weighs 6,000 pounds and is only 103 years old. Rosie Fay and her wonderful group of horses have pleased thousands. Dan MacDonald, a Kentucky thoroughbred, has won many blue ribbons, and is one of the best high school horses ever exhibited. Lady Jet and Hazel Dawn are unusually high jumpers, while Snowball and the two white setters take part in a very interesting posing act. Dolly Castle works with a quartette of ferocious lions and handles them as easily as most women do their house cats. The Shone brothers in an aerial act, clever little senex, donkeys, dogs and monkeys complete the program, with a number of screaming, side-splitting downs in a buffoon test of jest and nonsense that keeps the spectators in a roar of laughter throughout the performance.

TULSANS TO JACKSONVILLE

Miss Layman to Read at National Conference This Week.

A Tulsa girl is to be on the program at the twenty-fourth annual convention of the world-wide Baraca-Philathea union to be held at Jacksonville, Fla., this week, arrangements having been completed Saturday by the convention program chairman for Miss Josephine Layman to read at the big Friday evening banquet. Miss Layman was requested to deliver a 15-minute dramatic reading of inspirational character and a humorous poem.

Miss Layman, who is the chosen representative of the Philathea Young Woman's Sunday School class of the First Christian church; Miss Jessie McLeland, delegate from the Philathea class of Boston Avenue M. E. church, and George Lanier, delegate from the Baraca Young Men's class of Boston Avenue church, will start Monday noon for Jacksonville with fellow class members waving farewell to them from the railway station. They will wear conspicuous Tulsa insignia, the chamber of commerce having furnished Tulsa pennants for armband use and the Banner Sign company having made as its contribution to the excursion ribbon streamers with the name of Tulsa painted in bold relief on a different-colored background. The "Sunshine" convention, as it has been named, will be in session April 20 to April 23. About 2,000 young people from different countries, but principally from North America, are expected. A Sunday school class of any denomination can affiliate with the world-wide Baraca-Philathea union by reaching certain standards of class organization.

PAPER MEN TO VOTE

Will Make Decision on Strike at a Meeting Called for April 23. Official of Their Union Announces.

NEW YORK, April 15.—Following a six-hour conference of the executive board of the paper makers' union, it was announced this afternoon by J. T. Carey, president of the union, that a strike vote would be taken by the workers in the United States and Canada on April 23, union leaders said that all indications pointed to a refusal on the part of the men to accept a 10 per cent wage cut for contract labor.

In addition to the 10 per cent decrease of wages of skilled labor, the paper mill owners demand that the wages of unskilled laborers be cut to the prevailing scale for rough labor in the regions where the paper mills are located.

Possibility of arbitration was discussed but was considered unlikely owing to the universal sentiment of the men against a wage cut.

Two Candidates File
For Each Board Place

Owing to the fact that only two persons have filed as candidates for each place on the school board election Friday, April 21, will have no bearing on the nominees and at the regular election on Friday, May 19, the voters at large will elect one member for each number.

The lineup is as follows: Charles W. Grimes and George McCurdy for No. 2; Mrs. W. B. Stumph and T. J. Hartman for No. 4; W. A. Vandever and Dr. J. M. Temple for No. 5.

Many Roads Instructed
To Enforce Equal Rate

WASHINGTON, April 15.—The interstate commerce commission today ordered a large number of railroads to maintain equal freight rates on face, fire and paving brick, hollow building tile, and other specified clay products, except common brick, from and to all points in the United States east of the Rocky mountains. The order applies to carload shipments not exceeding 50,000 pounds.

MAY IMPEACH JURIST

Chairman Nolan of House Committee Says Action May Be Taken Because of Strike Decision.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Impeachment proceedings may be instituted in congress against Federal Judge Charles P. Orr of Pittsburgh and George W. McClintock of Charleston, W. Va., as the result of their recent decision affecting striking coal miners. It was declared today by Chairman Nolan of the house labor committee.

Orr recently denied citizenship papers to striking miners while McClintock issued an injunction ordering the abolition of the miners' tent colonies in Mingo county, West Virginia.

"If the action of these judges has been correctly reported, they have shown themselves to be extremely partisan and unfair and should be impeached," Nolan said. "If the labor committee is shown that these decisions were made, I would not hesitate to introduce a resolution in the house asking their impeachment."

BRYAN CENTER
OF CHURCH ROWHis Place on Convention
Program Causes Fuss
Among Members

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 15.—William Jennings Bryan was the center of a bitter row today among church workers interested in the international Sunday school convention to be held here in June.

Three Baptist churches started a determined fight to have Bryan put back on the convention program and two of the churches voted to withdraw financial and moral support unless such action is taken.

Bryan had been placed on the program by the international program committee and was later removed. Opposition to him arose over the commoner's views on the Bible and his opposition to evolution. Bryan believes in the inerrancy of the Bible.

The Rev. C. P. Bishop, pastor of one of the churches, termed the dropping of Bryan from the program "an insult to orthodox Christians."

The controversy was to be taken before the meeting of the committee of 100 on arrangements this afternoon and all of the 12 Baptist churches in the city were ready to insist that Bryan be placed back on the program.
